

CHANGING STATE OF THE WORKPLACE

*"reshaping office design"COURSE DESCRIPTION

As we move forward to a post-pandemic world, things will be different for the office space in terms of occupant density, well-being and safety. Overall, companies of all sizes will likely reexamine their long-term needs for fixed space. We begin this course where we left off in promoting a healthy workplace while attempting to understand what more we need to do with office design in a post pandemic world. We can only solve some of the immediate concerns but must be prepared to adapt and evolve each day as observations, experience and science emerge.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

GAIN insight to the office design trends for a post pandemic healthy workplace

RAISE awareness to the top physical elements causing concern for occupant wellbeing

LEARN solutions geared to improving the physical environment

SHARE best practice designs that realize a healthy workplace
